LARGEST EVER DONE METHODS OF MORGAN

Shipments of Merchandise to Territory Not Contiguous Past Nine Months Much Exceeds Any Corresponding Period.

Stated Corporation Furnished Gauge Intended to Show Customers That Competitors Sold to Them "Short Barrels."

Washington, Nov. 24.—Commerce of the United States with non-contiguous territory in 1905 seems likely to exceed by many million dollars that of any preceding year, according to the statement issued by the department of commerce and labor through the bureau of statistics. The bureau's nine months' statement, ending with September, shows shipments from the United States to non-contiguous territory amounted to $36,552,174, against $29,929,079 in the corresponding months of the preceding year, and shipments of merchandise to the United States, from its non-contiguous territory in the same period amounted to $66,550,150, against $47,141,638 in the corresponding months of the preceding year.

Figures given relate to merchandise only and do not include gold and silver of which shipments of Alaska to the United States were only $7,000,000 of the gold produced in that territory and $5,500,000 foreign gold shipped from Alaska being presumably that originating in British territory adjacent thereto. In merchandise shipped from Alaska to the United States there was a falling off of little less than $2,000,000 compared with previous year. In shipments from the United States there was an increase of nearly $2,000,000 to Alaska, of over $3,000,000 to Porto Rico, about $6,000,000 to the Philippines and nearly $2,000,000 to the Hawaiian Islands. In shipments from non-contiguous territory to the United States there was an increase of about $5,000,000 of Porto Rico, over $4,000,000 from the Philippines and about $12,000,000 from the Hawaiian Islands. The statement makes comparisons of contrast in trade of the United States with the above mentioned lands with the period prior to annexation.

In the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1905, the year prior to the annexation of Porto Rico, shipments of merchandise to the United States amounted to $1,767,028, against $1,617,676 in the nine months just ended. In the nine months of 1897 shipments from the Hawaiian Islands to the United States amounted to $13,044,231, against $35,689,791 in 1905. Shipments from the Philippines for the nine months of 1897 amounted to $3,362,060, against $11,792,714 in 1905.

Estimates made on the total commerce with non-contiguous territory for the entire year of 1905 approximate $125,000,000.

Shipments of sugar from the Hawaiian Islands for the nine months ended with September amounted to $33,113,471 raw sugar and $1,752,791 refined sugar. Shipments of refined sugar from Hawaii aggregated 33,136,558 pounds, against no shipments during the corresponding period of the preceding year.

Porto Rico's shipment of sugar amounted to $13,040,802 and leaf tobacco $392,651. From the Philippines the most important shipments were Manila hemp, $49,522,857, and sugar $2,216,249.

FREIGHTS COME TOGETHER.

In Rear End Collision One Man Killed and Five Others Injured.

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 24.—One trainman was killed and five others injured in a wreck on the Pennsylvania railroad at Thompsonstown. The wreck was caused by a rear end collision between two freight trains going west. A mail train leaving Harrisburg ran into the wreckage, blocking four tracks and delaying traffic several hours. All coaches of the mail train were wrecked, but no damage was done to the mail. The wreck between the freight trains is believed to have been caused by the failure of the engineer of one train to see the rear end of the other on account of a heavy fog.

What Taft Contends.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Secretary Taft contends contracts aggregating $135,000,000 may be made for Panama canal.

St. Louis, Nov. 24.—Inquiry into the methods of the Standard, Republic and Waters-Pierce Oil companies in Missouri was resumed Thursday before special Commissioner R. A. Anthony. William A. Morgan, former manager of the Standard Oil company at Sedalia, testified that the Standard Oil company issued orders to its agents to undersell competitors at all hazards. He asserted that upon one occasion he was supplied with false gauges to be used in the attempt to "drive the enemy from the field."

Morgan's testimony created a sensation and the Standard Oil attorneys offered frequent and vigorous objections. Morgan testified that he went into the employ of the Standard Oil company Jan. 16, 1898, as a salesman. Soon afterward he was made a resident manager of the company with headquarters at Sedalia.

"When I took charge of the Sedalia office," he said, "the Standard Oil company controlled 50 or 60 per cent of the business in that territory. Inside of a short time, I had taken the business away from competitors, and the Standard, before I severed connection with it 1901, controlled 90 per cent of the trade in the Sedalia territory. I was told to go into the field of our enemy and destroy our competitors. I was ordered to sell all goods possible, to cut prices wherever necessary. The Waters-Pierce company sold within eighteen miles of Sedalia and I was not allowed to go into their territory."

Morgan was then asked to tell whether he knew of the methods resorted to by the Standard, besides cutting prices, to get business or kill off competition. He answered that the company furnished him with barrel gauges by which he would be able to show a customer that a competitor sold "short barrels."

"I was told by Mr. Mayer to use the gauges only in extreme cases—that is where a competitor could not be driven out by other methods, or where other methods, or where other arguments," arguments failed to induce the merchant to buy from us," said Mr. Morgan.

"To what extent would these gauges indicate a barrel of oil was short when applied to barrels?"

"From four to five gallons."

"Why did you refuse to carry out instructions sent in you in regard to these gauges?"

"I had personal reasons."

"What were they?"

"Well, because I thought these gauges were being used with fraudulent intent. In the first place good salesmen could show by sharp manipulation that barrels were short."

SUNDAY REST.

The entire St. Paul railroad system has made a new regulation that Sunday shall be a day of rest as far as possible without interfering with the absolute necessities of traffic. Sunday excursions will be discontinued as well as all extra trains on that day, and freight crews will be instructed to make headquarters by Saturday night. General Passenger Agent Miller says the road is doing this because it thinks its men are entitled to rest, and because the Sunday traffic is a risk for which the returns are not adequate. This sort of thing seems to us to be a great sign of the times. The sign is that we are coming to the age of wisdom, the time when we learn that there are limits to human nature, so that the "level best," the greatest average is to be had by reverting to moderation.

In a similar way as to principle, Mayor Weaver, of Philadelphia, elected as a member of the gang, awakened to the truth that "honesty was the best policy," and he concluded to be honest—he found that it paid better. The motive may not be high, but it is practicable. It is suited to this practical world. Long ago railroads dealt with the drink question on precisely the same basis. They said in effect that they cared nothing for morals, or rather that there were no morals or sentiment involved, that they simply recognized that a man that drank was not a safe man to be trusted with running a train, and they would not have him.

If we are correct that the recognition of this principle is a sign of the times we are on the eve of many betterments—and to continue the application to railroads, which are so vital a part of the life of the country, it should apply to the great race for speed that is taking place on some of the great trunk lines. There are limits of safety, all things considered—track, grade, curves and equipment. It is plain that this limit is being hard pressed, to put it mildly.

After all, the greatest thing in the world is a human being, and his best development is the greatest thing in life. It is not dollars. It is not a little more wealth at a little more risk. A railroad man is a safer man all the week for having a Sunday rest, just as he is a safer man for not drinking. When the American people wake up to this large fact and come to cherish human beings as the most valuable thing in the world and human life as the most sacred thing in the world, we shall have a saner civilization and more real progress than we witness now.—Exchange in the Railroad Telegrapher.

COTTON ARITHMETIC.

The plan proposed by the Texas division of the Southern Cotton Association to study cotton as a subject in the arithmetic classes of our schools is one of great importance to the farmers of the entire South and to Texas in particular. In this way reliable facts concerning this great crop will be scattered far and near among farmers, merchants and bankers. Let the schools teach the great value of cotton. It is truly a wonderful crop. Commercially it is the greatest of the world's crops.

Southern people do not realize that their raw cotton for one year is worth more than all the gold and silver dug from the world's mines in that time. Secretary of Agriculture Jas. Wilson, of Washington, says: "Unfortunately, our system of elementary education is such as to leave no impression on the child's mind of the importance value and usefulness of farm life."

The Honorable Secretary might have said, "and farm crops."

Compare the output of this country's gold and silver with our cotton crop. In 1904 the United States produced gold valued at $80,835,648, the largest in our history. Of silver we produced a value of $32,035,378. From both sources we have $112,871,026 worth of precious metals. The South exported $872,049,264 worth of cotton to foreign countries in 1904.

The total value of her cotton crop was $623,000,000—more than four times the output of gold and silver. Cotton is precious.

Compare cotton with wheat. Set up our great breadstuff against our great fibre. America stands first in the production of both. The wheat crop of 1904 was 552,399,517 bushels, worth $510,489,874. Here is more than one hundred million dollars difference in favor of cotton grown in thirteen states as against wheat produced in forty-three states.

Our foreign trade in meats and animal products is an immense item. Tariffs are framed by nations to regulate the shipments of American pork, beef and live animals, but duty free American cotton enters foreign ports to an extent truly surprising. The value of this raw cotton far exceeds the live animals and manufactured animal products sent to other countries, though the United States is recognized as the greatest source of meat supply for the world's needs.

In 1904 we exported live animals valued at $47,977,875; dairy products, $5,558,217; beef, pork and mutton in all forms, $98,813,322; lard, oleo and other oils, $13,391,538; adding eggs, feathers and sundry items we reach a grand total of all meat and meat products exported, valued at $233,034,209. Place this against raw cotton exports, valued at $372,000,000, and we can readily understand what the Southern cotton trade means to this nation.

We purpose next week to treat of the "arithmetic of cotton" from the standpoint of spinning cotton and cost of warehousing and insuring the crop. From these data teachers may readily formulate class work in addition, subtraction, multiplication, division, proportion, percentage, interest, partnership, etc.—Farm and Ranch.

A TRIP TO EGYPT.

A advance notice says: On Tuesday, Nov. 28, there will be presented at the opera house the latest and most popular musical comedy success, "A Trip to Egypt," from the pen of the well known author and composer, C. Herbert Kerr. This piece is one of the most elaborately mounted and equipped that will be seen in our city this year. Every single item of the production being carried by the company and absolutely no house scenery or properties are used at all. The orders to all theaters is "Clear Stage."

Miss Cardowme in "A Trip to Egypt"

The electrical effects are new and of a spectacular nature and the costuming is the most elaborate that has ever been seen with any attraction in our city.

Ringer and Wind.

Making a ringer in the pitching of quilts must have been a part of the training which made the English longbowmen so terrible in siege that by gauging the distance and taking the lay of the wind they could send up a deadly volley at the exact angle to drop their arrows with destructive force into the heart of a beleaguered city. Getting the lay of the wind is the first thing to be learned in the noble art of pitching horseshoes. If the wind be contrary, the nicest calculations as to everything else will be in vain. It is only a supreme master of the game, a dazzling genius in its mathematics, who can play against the wind—that is to say, one who, if the wind be from the east, can, by throwing at exactly that degree of an oblique angle needed to make it meet the wind full at the point opposite the goal, may hope to have it carried to the right spot.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Exact Obedience.

Native servants in India have the generally desirable, though sometimes inconvenient, virtue of the Chinese—doing exactly as they are told. The trouble is that they seldom use judgment.

Lord Roberts during a campaign in India had ordered his man to prepare his bath at a certain hour. One day a fierce engagement was going on, but the servant made his way through a storm of bullets and appeared at his commander's side.

"Sahib," said he, "your bath is ready."

Even a better story comes from an unknown soldier who was awakened one morning by feeling the servant of a brother officer pulling at his foot.

"Sahib," whispered the man, "sahib, what am I to do? My master told me to wake him at half past 6, but he did not go to bed till 7."

Bathers Who Sleep Floating.

"To fall asleep floating on the waves is not an impossibility," said an Atlantic City life guard. "On the sun warmed billows on an August afternoon I once floated off to sleep, and when I awoke I was nearly half a mile out at sea. I know a Camden man who often takes a floating nap off Chelsea."

"A good many people can't float even though they can swim. They can't float because they keep the line of the body, from head to heels, stiff and straight. The line should be kept curved a little—it should resemble a very broad V—and all the muscles should be loose, relaxed. It is easy to float. I have taught many children of six and seven years to do it."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Needless.

The good fairy called her assistant and showed her a golden box. "Take this box," she said, "and lock it carefully in the safe. It contains good advice."

"My mistress," replied the assistant, "why should we lock up good advice? No one will ever take it."—Puck.

The Boy and His Pa.

"I make a chum of my father." "I could never do that with mine." "Wouldn't he like it?" "He might, but ma wouldn't. I'm usually out till after midnight."—Houston Post.

The reason why lovers are never weary of one another is this—they are ever talking of themselves.—Rochefoucauld.

The Crucifix in the Banana.

The increasing popularity of the banana in this country recalls a curious reference to the fruit to be found in an old volume entitled "The Glasse of Time In the First Age," divinely handled by Thomas Peyton (1620). In the eighty-first stanza occurs the following:

A cucumber much like it is in shew, A perfect cross you shall therein perceive.

In the Canary Islands and in Brazil it was regarded as an affront to the Saviour to cut the banana with a knife, as it revealed the crucifix. But in order to see this clearly it is necessary to cut the fruit when it first commences to ripen or, if ripe, immediately after it is taken from the plant.—London Standard.

Rats.

A plan that will sometimes destroy a large number of rats is to fill a barrel partly full of water and cover it with an inch or so of meal. A hole is bored in the barrel a little above the meal, and the rats enter, sink through the meal and find a watery grave. In catching rats in steel traps great care is required to deceive the rodents. Traps need to be well covered and everything done to avoid raising the suspicions of the "varmints." Often when rats refuse to eat poisoned bread and butter they may be baited with poisoned crackers, cheese or meat. Rats are shy and gamy creatures, but it is possible to "make game of them."

He Knew Too Much.

A curious Malayan legend says that in olden times the waters surrounding Singapore were so infested with swordfish as to make it impossible for the fishermen to pursue their daily task. A boy advised the rajah to let down into the water freshly peeled stems of the banana plant, and, this being done, the fish imbedded their swords in the stems and were easily killed. The boy genius was considered a danger to the throne, and he was executed lest he grow up and become a conspirator.

Whistler's Idea of Hands.

Whistler, the artist, said: "I always use Irish models for hands, with their long, slender fingers and delightful articulations, the most beautiful hands in the world. I think Irish eyes are also the most beautiful. American girls' hands come next. English girls have red, coarse hands; the German girl has broad, flat hands, and the Spanish hand is full of big veins."

To Break It Gently.

Mike had been appointed a committee of one to break the sad news to the widow.

"Here," said Pat, "where are yez goin'?"

"To the telegraph office. I'll send her a dispatch, and when she gets it she'll faint and the turrable shock'll be painless."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Love.

"What is love?" asked the sweet girl, who was looking for a chance to leap.

"Love," replied the old bachelor, "is a kind of insanity that makes a man call a 200 pound female his little turtle-dove."

The American Woman's Home.

Hundreds of thousands of American women are born, live their lives and die in boarding houses or hotels without ever finding time to create a home for themselves or without even feeling a desire to do so.—House Beautiful.

THIS MEANS MONEY TO YOU!

With the vast improvement in my Jewelry Establishment, which includes handsome new plate glass show windows, finished in white enamel, the newest and most up-to-date fixtures, and the large increase in my stock of goods, I have determined on and after December 1, 1905, to

SELL FOR CASH AND CASH ONLY

If any business in the world should be conducted on a Cash basis it is the Jewelry business, and in justice to myself and my friends and customers I have fully determined to make this change and make it permanent. No man can sell goods for cash and on credit at the same price and succeed. Accumulating accounts not only consume all the profits but make inroads on the capital invested. I have had enough of this sort of experience and hereafter will make

ONE CASH PRICE TO ALL!

NO BOOKS, NO TICKETS, NO BILL COLLECTING.

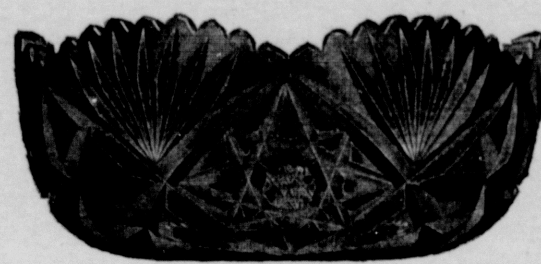

You get the goods and I get the cash on the spot and the transaction is closed. By this means I will be able to sell all classes of goods cheaper because I will get my money immediately, turn it over oftener at smaller profits and conduct my business with less expense and loss of time. Having made the proposition plain to you and showed how its advantages are mutual, I heartily thank you one and all for the patronage of the past and invite you to come and see one of

STRONG EVIDENCE OF FAITH.

E. J. Jenkins Guarantees That Hyomei Will Cure the Worst Case of Catarrh in Bryan.

When one of the most reputable druggists in Bryan guarantees that a medicine will effect a cure or he will refund the money, it speaks volumes as to the merits of that remedy. It is in this way that E. J.
Jenkins is selling Hyomei, the treatment that has made so many cures of both acute and chronic cases of catarrh in Bryan and vicinity.

Hyomei is not a pill, nor is it a liquid that has to be taken with a tablespoon or wineglass. Just breathe it by the aid of an inhaler that comes with every outfit, and benefit will be seen from the first treatment.

It destroys all germ life in the air passages and lungs, and enriches and purifies the blood with additional ozone. It cures catarrh of the head and throat, or of the stomach, liver and kidneys. Wherever mucous membrane contains catarrhal germs, there Hyomei will do its work of healing. When using this treatment, the air you breathe will be found like that on the mountains high above the sea level, where grow balsamic trees and plants which make the air pure by giving off volatile antiseptic fragrance that is healing to the respiratory organs.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs
but $1.00, and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks' treatment.

Remember that if Hyomei does not cure you, E. J. Jenkins will refund your money. This is a good time to cure catarrh by this natural method and prevent catarrhal colds that are so common at this season.

The tip end of the little finger of the left hand had been cut off.

Thirteen criminal convictions were had in the Federal court, among them being J. A. Goode and Sarah Crabtree of Erath county. They pleaded guilty to defrauding the government in pension department. I. Whited and wife pleaded guilty to counterfeiting.

COMMISSION MEN WRATHY.
 St. Louis Dealers Indignant at Newly Enacted Game Laws.
 St. Louis, Nov. 24.—Commission men of St. Louis are up in arms against the game laws recently enacted by the state legislature, the statutes being characterized as illegal from the fact that the dealers alleged that they smack of class legislation. St. Louis firms are said to be sending out printed matter telling that alleged discriminations of the new law make against the common people in favor of influential and wealthy gun clubs. The pamphlets declare that the clubs influenced legislation in forty-five states and territories. The laws are declared by the commission men to be selfishly unjust.

SEVERAL NEW CASES.
 Magnitude of the Election Fraud Investigation Increasing.
 New York, Nov. 24.—The magnitude of the election fraud investigation was increased Thursday by several new cases. John Elder was held in $10,000 bail, charged with illegal voting and perjury, and James Gallagher was held in $5,000 bail on a charge of perjury. Frank D. Batsig, a Tammany member of a district board of election inspectors, arrested on a charge of neglect of duty, was held in $5,000 bail.

W. R. Hearst's lawyers claimed that ninety-one votes were found in one election district which should have been counted for Hearst and were not. In many of the districts canvassed by the board of county canvassers of New York county, discrepancies were found, and the Hearst representatives claim their candidate gained more than 150 votes. This gain was disputed, however. The canvassers are comparing tally sheets with the returns. Petitions for recount in many districts may be based on this canvass.

In the examination of disputed ballots before supreme court, Justice Gigerich Thursday in the Eleventh assembly district, it was found that there was a gain of twelve votes for Mayor McClellan, eleven for Hearst and five for Ivins.

Two sentences for illegal voting were passed by the supreme court. Thomas Halle, who confessed that he voted illegally under the name of Thomas Hall, received an indeterminate sentence of not less than a year and three months. The same sentence was meted out to Thomas D. Brennan, who pleaded guilty to voting on another man's name. Both men voted in the Third assembly district.

Counsel for W. R. Hearst raised the legal question that Mayor McClellan will be mayor of New York only as a holdover after Dec. 31, next, unless Mr. Hearst's fight for a recount is ended before that time. This was said to be due to the fact that under an order issued last week by Justice Amend of the supreme court the board of canvassers of New York county cannot issue a certificate of election either to Mayor McClellan or the comptroller or president of the board of aldermen until the proceedings attending the movement for a recount are ended.

Ten thousand dollars and a kiss from a leading society woman is the reward given to Dr. Heber Jones, president of the Memphis board of health in recognition of his successful efforts in keeping the city free from yellow fever during the recent visit of the scourge to the southern states.
 The check was the result of a subscription list taken up by influential citizens, who quickly secured $10,000. The kiss was not on the programme for the formal presentation, which occurred Thursday. The society woman was Mrs. James S. Robinson, wife of the millionaire pharmacist. Following the presentation of the check she walked up to the physician and without a word of warning kissed him squarely upon the lips.
 The act took Dr. Jones by surprise, but he soon regained his composure.

ORIGIN OF LIFE.
 Bit by Bit Professor Loeb Is Compiling Experiments on Great Secret.
 Berkeley, Cal., Nov. 24.—Bit by bit Professor Jacques Loeb, the scientist, is compiling his next experiments to the secret of the origin of life, and it is hoped he will eventually make clear the problem. He has added another to the many steps already taken in this direction by issuing an announcement regarding chemical methods employed in maturing eggs of mollusk Jottia gigantea. The result of Professor Loeb's experiments with these eggs of the mollusk have caused him to revise the theories previously held. Experiments include testing effects of hypertonic sea water upon mollusk eggs with a view of determining how fertilization might be accomplished and also to determine whether the action of sea water and the effect upon the eggs are of physical or chemical nature. Professor Loeb formerly believed the action was of a physical character, but now revises this opinion.
